

Justin Timberlake hosted a star-studded ROLLING STONE pre-Grammy throwdown at Hollywood's Avalon to announce the launch of JT-TV (check it out on a Verizon phone). Meanwhile, photogs creamed their jeans when JT hooked up with fellow Britney survivor Kevin Federline.

Timbaland and his protégée Nelly Furtado get promiscuous at Avalon.

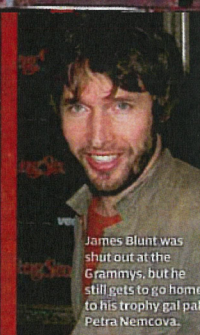

Satellite Party's Perry Farrell brought his wife, Etty, to the RS bash.

Fergie, our honorary duchess, made the boys go loco on the black carpet.

Here he comes to save the day: Masi Oka - Hiro of Heroes - bent space and time to arrive at the party.

James Blunt was shut out at the Grammys, but he still gets to go home to his trophy gal pal, Petra Nemcova.

Timberlake hopped onstage with Will.i.am and the Black Eyed Peas at Avalon.

ROLLING STONE
THROWS A
PARTY